Daisy
The Data
Detective

Daisy loves puzzles and games, Solving mysteries is her aim. She's not a regular detective, you see, She's a Data Scientist, as clever as can be!

While some detectives look for clues on the ground,
Daisy finds hers all around!
With her computer and data so vast, She looks for patterns from the past

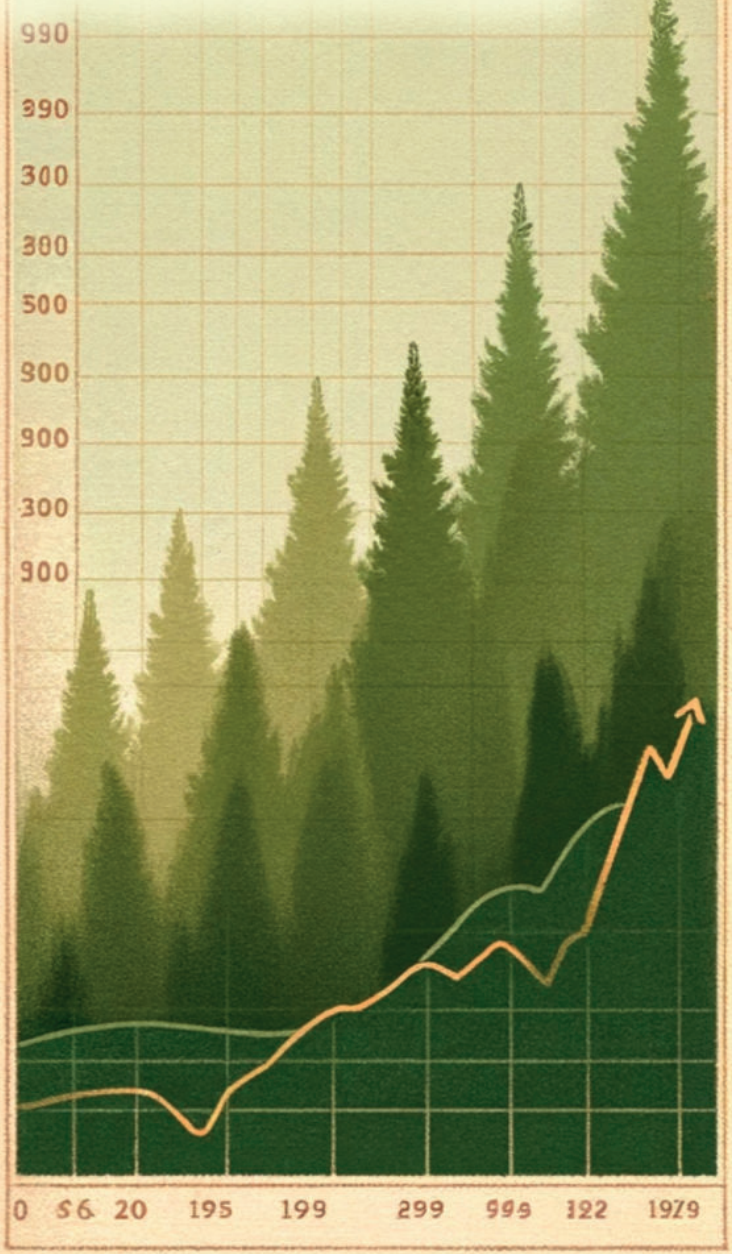
Why do people buy more ice cream when it's sunny and not when it's rainy and funny?" Daisy wonders and dives deep, Into the data, taking a leap!

Daisy doesn't just look with her eyes,
She uses tools to analyze.
With numbers and facts that she collects,
She connects the dots and detects.

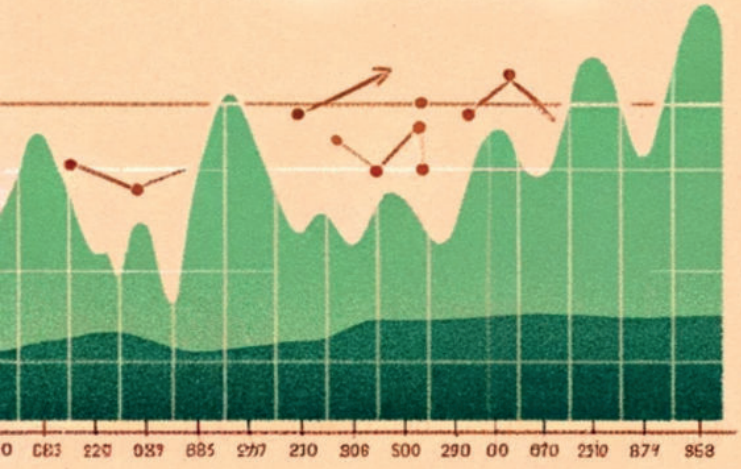
Sharing her findings with friends nearby, They're amazed at how and why! "Data," Daisy says with glee, "Helps us understand and see!"

In a world that's virtual and vast, Daisy can see the present and the past. Data points, they float and dance, Helping Daisy take a chance.

Can we use data to make the world green?" Daisy ponders as she leans.



With her skills, she surely might, Make the future bright and light.



So, if you wonder about the world wide, Or have questions that you can't hide. Remember Daisy and her quest, To find answers that are the best!
